Foreword

Dundee has more open spaces and parks per head of population than any other Scottish city, occupying 28% of the urban area. Dundee City Council recognises the value of parks, and whatever the size and condition of the park, we need your help to improve these public parks and open spaces.

Your local public park and open space provide opportunities for communities and visitors to enjoy a wide span of outdoor leisure uses, benefiting health, and providing a safe play area for children. Public parks and open spaces do, however, need local people to use them wisely and, unfortunately some of our parks and open spaces have been the target of anti-social behaviour.

This guide has been written to assist individuals interested in establishing a 'Friends' group, with the aim of improving the appearance, facilities, conservation value and safety of their local public park or open space. The guide contains contact details for council officers along with step by step advice on establishing your group, ranging from organising an event to applying for funding.

There are already a number of active 'Friends' groups throughout the city, working with us to improve parks and open spaces. Many have been running for a number of years. The Council recognises that groups may have different priorities for their areas, and that there are no quick fixes to improving public parks and open spaces, as you can see in the case study from the Friends of Barnhill Rock Garden, in this document. However, without the involvement of local residents Dundee would not be the city it is. By working together we firmly believe we can create the parks that we want, and our citizens deserve.

You could help protect or improve a local park or open space within Dundee - so give it a go, and good luck.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

This publication has been developed to guide individuals that are interested in establishing a 'Friends' group in Dundee. It explains the basic stages of setting up a 'Friends' group, from forming a committee, to promoting the group, and fundraising events. It will show the benefits and the mutual support that can be achieved, by working in partnership with Dundee City Council.

1.1 Working with Dundee City Council

Dundee City Council recognise the value and importance of parks to groups and individuals. They are environments which can enhance quality of life, and provide a resource for both formal and informal recreation and physical activity, making an important contribution to the amenity and attractiveness of Dundee, as a city in which to work and live. Parks and open space are for the benefit of all the community, and in recent years there has been an increasing interest in parks and open space, and the outdoors in general. Dundee City Council is keen to promote Friends' Groups in Parks, so that through partnership, the development of the city's assets can be best taken forward encouraging the active involvement of the community.

The majority of parks and open spaces throughout the city are owned by Dundee City Council, which is responsible for ensuring appropriate development and management of the sites. This means that the council has to balance the time and money it spends on each site. To do this, the Leisure and Communities Department has produced a Service Plan which identifies priorities for improvements, and spending, from its available budget. Some of the larger parks have Management Plans which can be made available to you.

In the early days of a group's involvement, there can be a difference between what the group wants and what the council is looking for. Working together is a good way of understanding each other, and agreeing priorities and a shared vision. Community groups and the wider community, working together with the council, can develop a mutually acceptable vision.

The Leisure and Communities department can offer the following additional support:

- A start up pack and guidance notes.
- The allocation of a supporting officer's time to assist you.
- Help with promoting your idea through a leaflet distributed to park users and houses in the area.
- Help to organise a public meeting to test and encourage public interest.
- Help with the collection of names and the official formation of the group.
- Advice on the structure of the group, including the preparing of a constitution, and the development of a set of aims and objectives.
- An agreement between the council and the new group that defines each party's roles and responsibilities, and the scope of the work that the group can undertake with support from the council.
- An induction day to introduce the group to the parks team, and explain how the council works.
- Advice on how to apply to the Lottery 'Awards for All', to assist with the development of your programme.

You should ensure that all communication with the council is carried out by only one or two members of the group. This should not prevent members of the group getting to know the park's team. This can be done informally during work tasks, at meetings and at events. The more you become acquainted with each other, the stronger the partnership will be.

Dundee City Council's Leisure and Communities Department is your partner in getting what you want in your park or green space. Once the initial contact has been established, remember to keep in regular contact to keep the momentum going. Invite key people from the council to your events and put them on your mailing list.

1.2 What is a 'Friends' Group?

'Friends' Groups play a vital role in protecting and enhancing local parks and open spaces in Dundee. Working in partnership with the Council they give local residents a greater say in what goes on in those areas.

The groups volunteer their time and energy to get involved with a huge range of different projects including;

- Fundraising for improvements and events in the park.
- Enhancing biodiversity (e.g. the creation of wildflower meadows, or installing bird and bat boxes).
- Practical tasks such as litter picks and tree planting.
- Improving access.
- Contributing to the planning and management of the park.
- Producing leaflets and other educational material.
- Acting as eyes and ears to protect the park.

It is entirely up to each individual to determine the level of activity they wish to undertake. Some may operate at a low level, simply distributing leaflets regarding the park, whilst others can be more active, raising funds and organising events.

1.3 Reasons for establishing a 'Friends' group

- 'Friends' groups give local people that are interested in their park a representative organisation.
- 'Friends' groups could work in partnership with the local authority and other local organisations to represent local views and improve and develop the park.
- Local authorities are unable themselves to fund and deliver everything that is needed in most parks.
- 'Friends' groups may be able to establish themselves as charitable organisations and can raise funds that are not accessible to local authorities, for projects.

1.4 Benefits of forming a 'Friends' group

Dundee's parks and open spaces provide opportunities for recreation and enjoyment, benefiting health, relaxation, play, peace and tranquillity for local residents and visitors to the City. It is vital that these opportunities are available for all to enjoy and 'Friends' groups play a valuable role in the upkeep and enjoyment of our parks and open spaces.

'Friends' groups need local people to use parks wisely and often; they consist of local people who will volunteer their time to improve the city's parks and open spaces. Anyone can join and volunteer as much or as little time as they wish.

'Friends' groups value and appreciate the city's parks and open spaces, and have been able to suggest improvements, and encourage the restoration of these parks and open spaces, by raising funding for physical improvements, seeing joint projects through to completion, and giving opinions on proposed plans for the park.

'Friends' groups can make a huge difference. There are shining examples of reversing decline and bringing back quality, beauty, and shared stewardship of our parks and open spaces. By forming a group, you can help contribute, and identify what needs to be done; help to clarify priorities for local people of all ages and backgrounds; understand the challenges and the opportunities, and form a practical partnership with the Council.

1.5 What if the group does not agree with the Departments individual officers decision!

The Department encourages 'Friends' groups and staff to work closely together. If there is a failure to agree on a decision then the group can appeal to a more senior officer or go through the Council's Complaint Procedure.

2.0 ESTABLISHING A 'FRIENDS' GROUP

2.1 Identify interested parties

This can sometimes seem like the most difficult and daunting stage to tackle but there are a few simple things you can do. Most groups tend to advertise by distributing flyers, putting up posters or holding an event such as bulb planting.

Try to represent all communities surrounding the park as this will ensure that the group is acting on behalf of the wider community and assist in avoiding conflicts at a later date. A diverse group will provide more opportunities, knowledge and experience.

Inform community councils, resident groups, and park users such as bowling clubs and allotment societies. Invite members onto a steering group.

The more widely the 'Friends group is known the better, as it can support and be supported by organisations with similar aims or interests.

2.2 Set up a steering group

The steering group will guide the formation of the 'Friends' group. Six is a good number to get started. Once the group has a constitution, members can be elected as office bearers. The steering group members need not be office bearers once the group is constituted. The steering group will develop the initial interest, as well as developing the aims and constitution of the group, using a model which the Leisure and Communities Department can provide.

2.3 Letter of intent

The steering group should write a letter of intent to the Director of Leisure & Communities, Level 3, The Wellgate, Dundee, DD1 1DB, to register their interest in setting up a 'Friends' group.

Anyone within the initial group of interested individuals can write to register the group's interest in becoming a 'Friends' group.

The Director will offer the assistance of a Leisure and Communities officer, who will work with the group initially if required, offering guidance and support. The officer's support may also be useful in developing the groups aims etc.

2.4 Identifying a venue for possible meetings

The group will have to identify possible venues for regular meetings. These meetings should be organised in a facility that is local to your park or open space, and as open and accessible to as many community members as possible. The Leisure and Communities Department cannot cover the cost of hiring venues. However, where there are existing facilities within local, council buildings, these may be available for use at no cost.

2.5 Annual General Meeting (AGM)

Once you have found a number of interested individuals the next phase is to hold an inaugural Annual General Meeting (AGM) to adopt a constitution and elect a committee. Thereafter hold the AGM once a year in order to elect or re-elect committee members and present an annual report and accounts to the rest of the group.

All meetings held by your group should have an agenda, indicating what issues will be included in your meeting. Minutes should also be taken at every meeting, to keep a record of what was discussed. Record the names of those in attendance, and any apologies sent by those who were unable to attend the meeting. Please include the Duty Parks Officers and any supporting officers in the circulation of your minutes.

2.6 Forming a Committee

The group's committee helps with the day to day running of the group, and is elected by the members of the group, to carry out actions and tasks on their behalf between meetings. The committee is responsible for the actions of the group - so members cannot act without the committee's authorisation.

The aims of the committee should be achievable and realistic short, medium and long term visions for the park complimenting the aims of the Council's Leisure and Communities Department.

Remember "small wins" or successes will encourage support and participation. Short term achievable projects will achieve positive publicity, allowing the group to develop its role, experience and confidence in dealing with issues.

The Role of Elected Members - The Council is aware of the interest that councillors have in their local parks and open spaces within their constituency. Invite councillors to attend your meetings as non voting ex officio committee members and include in your circulation of minutes.

2.7 Other forms of 'Friends' Groups

Below are some of the other types of groups and organisations with an interest in the improvement of parks and green spaces:

- Informal, unconstituted groups
- Conservation groups
- Park Watch groups
- Community Planning Groups

The Council's advice is to use the most popular choice, and to operate under the title of 'Friends...' for example Friends of Baxter Park. It is a title that suggests a supportive and protective role, and a commitment to bring benefits to the park, which is what most groups want. The best thing about the 'Friends' title is that it can include the group in every type of park interest and activity. It is a handy 'catchall' title that gives the group a high degree of flexibility. In addition, the title is now well used and understood, quickly letting people know what the group is all about.

2.8 Naming of 'Friends' groups

Dundee City Council reserves the right to the use of the names of all its parks and open spaces. The incorporation of the name into the title of your group will usually be granted but requires the agreement of the Director of Leisure and Communities.

The Office of Scottish Charity Regulator is also legally bound to review the names of charities (i.e. 'Friends' groups who apply for charitable status), and if they are too alike, to direct either one or both charities to change its name.

2.9 Roles and positions within the committee (example)

1. Chairperson, helps the group to achieve its aims, sets agendas, conducts meetings and acts as the leader of the group, ensuring its smooth operation. The chairperson should act as a good facilitator, ensuring positive discussions, and involving all members of the group.
2. Secretary, ensures all members of the group are kept fully informed and that they feel involved and included. The secretary prepares the paperwork and agendas for the meetings, books meeting rooms, maintains the group's records, deals with the group's correspondence, and supports the chairperson.
3. Treasurer, looks after the group's financial activities, ensuring accounts and records are kept up to date and accurate. The treasurer is responsible for making financial reports to the committee.
4. Events officer, manages the event budget, seeks permission to hold the event, arranges the hiring of acts and booking of the venue, co-ordinates event set up, technical specifications, site plans, and health and safety.
5. Marketing and press officer communicates the aims and objectives of the group to the wider community, including the local press and other media bodies etc. Arranges a variety of PR on behalf of the group, to promote the group's achievements in projects, funding, newsletters and activities.
6. Web Master, designs the group's website, creates webpage, and inserts information and images. Responsible for updating the content of the site.

2.10 Developing a Constitution

A constitution explains how your group will be managed, from the aims and objectives of the group, through to how meetings will be run. The constitution of your group does not have to be complicated, but should reflect how you wish your group to be managed. Appendix 3 is an example of a constitution form.

Constitutions are important for the following reasons;

- To ensure the groups aims and objectives are clear and agreed by its members.
- To provide a mechanism for making decisions and resolving disputes.
- To gain credibility with other organisations and bodies.
- To ensure accountability.
- To clarify liability and lines of responsibility.
- To enable the group to qualify for various grants where the awarding body insists on a group constitution.
- To enable the group to join other bodies that can help and support them.
- A constitution is also vital if the group wants to apply for charitable status.

2.11 Registering for Charitable Status

As well as the vital support the council can provide to you as a group, there are various organisations that will be able to offer help and advice. Once your group is constituted, you may wish to consider becoming a registered charity.

2.12 Benefits of charitable status

The main benefits of charitable status are tax related. Special advantageous relief's and schemes concerning income tax, corporation tax, council tax/rates, and others, are available to recognised charities. Charities do however pay VAT - but there are exemptions available for a range of activities.

2.13 Scottish Charity Register

If you want your group to be entered on to the Register and become a charity, you will need to apply to the office of the Scottish Charity Regulator.

You can get hold of an application form and charity trustee declaration form from the website www.oscr.org.uk, by writing or by phone, at the contact details below. The OSCR's website provides a checklist on how to identify whether an organisation is a charity when you are asked to contribute.

You can contact OSCR as follows;
Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator
2nd Floor
Quadrant House
9 Riverside Drive
Dundee
DD1 4NY

Tel: 01382 220446      Email: info@oscr.org.uk

2.14 Setting up a Bank Account

You will need a bank account to manage any money that is generated through fundraising, and to pay for items such as stationery etc. Set up the account in the name of the group, with at least 2 signatories. The signatories must be members of the committee, usually the chairperson and the treasurer. It is possible to have 3 signatories on the account, allowing a member of the committee to sign if another is unavailable.

2.15 Insurance and Health and Safety

If your group intends to undertake practical tasks, and hold events then you will require insurance, usually public liability insurance (which covers accidents to the public and other third parties and personal accident insurance (to provide compensation for your volunteers should they be injured whilst undertaking activities for the Group).

To comply with Health and Safety laws the group is required to carry out risk assessments, prior to an event. This would involve looking for hazards (e.g. using tools), deciding who might be harmed and how, and then recording the findings of your assessment (e.g. the main risks and the measures you have taken to deal with them). Please contact the Departments' Environment Events Officer for advice and more detailed written guidance.

3.0 ADVERTISING

3.1 Local Media

Often the best way to inform people about your event is through posters, local newspapers, radio or television. The papers usually have a 'What's On' column which advertises details of events from local groups. Contact the news desk, at least one or two weeks before the event, so that they can put the date in their diary.

Things that you need to tell the media:

- What is happening
- When the event is taking place
- Where it is taking place
- Who is involved
- Any prizes
- Who is presenting
- Any additional information
- Who to contact for further information

This information can be put together in a press release (Appendix 4). Sometimes the press will send a photographer and/or a reporter but this is not always guaranteed. If the media does not attend you can send them a description of the event and what was achieved, along with photographs taken before, during and after the event.

3.2 Newsletters

These are a great way of informing your members, and the wider community, of what your group is up to; celebrating successful events, promoting forthcoming events and recruiting new members.

3.3 Websites

If a member of your group has experience of web design, the group could set up its own website providing information about the group, a history of the park, and a list of activities/events that your group is involved with.

4.0 FUNDRAISING

In the majority of cases your group may wish to raise funds to help run the group and carry out projects. Some groups organise fund raising events, such as a plant sale, to raise revenue. Building positive relationships with local organisations may help you to get some resources for free. For example, you could persuade a local cafe or supermarket to provide free refreshments after a clean-up event.

Your group may wish to apply for funding to help improve your park/open space. When applying for funding, please bear in mind the following points:

- It is really important that the funder you apply to is willing to give funds for projects like your's. Make a list of the funder's aims and objectives, and make statements about how your project will reach these aims and objectives.
- Don't be too extravagant with your first bid, it is better to apply for smaller amounts of money when you first begin. Funders like to see experience of dealing with money and projects, before they offer you a large sum of money.
- Funders like projects which meet the needs of local people. If you have completed a piece of consultation that shows your project will meet these needs, try to refer to it in the application.
- Funders also like to fund projects which include more than one group or organisation. Refer to the fact that you work in partnership with Dundee City Council and any other groups or organisations.
- Mention any match funding you have received. Equipment, facilities or staff given in kind can be classed as match funding. Contact the Leisure and Communities officer to get a cost for these items.

4.1 Funding Advice

There are a number of funding opportunities open to community groups, these may be provided by local or national organisations. Advice on what funding is available and how a community can go about obtaining funding is also available locally and nationally, listed below are organisations and publications that you may find helpful.

- Claiming Your Share - Greenspace guide to funding for parks Community and 'Friends groups.
- Dundee Voluntary Action and Volunteer Centre.
- Dundee City Council provides assistance to help Dundee groups and organisations access external funding.

Dundee City Council provides 'Search for Grants Online' - a free on line server that provides details of local, national and EU funding support. The Funding Fact file, this has been developed by the Council and includes valuable guidance and information on the key issues to consider when applying for grants, as well as hints and tips for filling out application forms etc. The Reference and Information centre, in Central Library, subscribes to the FunderFinder database - enquire at the Service desk

4.2 National Funding Bodies

These organisations provide advice and information on funding, rather than providing grants and awards themselves, and are a good place to start if you are new to fundraising. Many of them are based online, and have some excellent information, guidance and advice available.

- The Friends of Barnhill Rock Garden
- The Friends of Balgay Park
- The Friends of Balgarthno Circle

- The Friends of Magdalene Green
- The Friends of Western Cemetery

There are also other established groups relating directly to the city's parks and open spaces, and these include:

- Ardler Environment Group
- Balgay Conservation Group
- Broughty Ferry Environment Group
- Broughty Ferry in Bloom Group
- Dighty Group
- Bonnie Dundee Group
- Dundee Red Squirrel Group

Appendix 2: 'Friends' Group Case Study - Friends of Barnhill Rock Garden

Why the group was set up?

Formally constituted in 1997, the Friends of the Barnhill Rock Garden is a recognised Scottish Charity, whose main purpose is to promote and support the Garden, ensuring this unique facility has a secure future. The first 'Friends' group in the City formed to support a public park, the group is widely held as an example of what can be achieved through community participation.

Regular discussions with representatives of Dundee City Council's Leisure and Communities department have resulted in a number of joint ventures to improve the Garden, and provide new ones for the benefit of the local community. Friends are encouraged to play an active part in the Garden, and raise a large number of diverse plants for the Rock Garden each year. A propagation unit has enabled the volunteers to raise cuttings of a wide range of shrubs, which are grown on and eventually planted up in the Rock Garden. The 'Friends' also provide financial assistance to purchase seeds, bulbs and plants, to ensure the long established collection of plant materials from around the world.

What has the group achieved?

The 'Friends' group now has just under 500 members, and is involved in a varied programme of garden visits, talks, and workshops, and publish a twice yearly newsletter. The Beechgrove Garden television programme featured the Garden on the 23rd April 2008, following a day long visit by Jim McColl, when he spent time talking to the gardener and members of the 'Friends' group.

The 'Friends' work actively to bring outside groups down to the garden; have established links with local primary schools; and have run a number of children's activities during the summer holidays.

Additional achievements

The Garden is a credit to the partnership of the city council and the 'Friends' group. In 2007 the Garden received its first Green Flag Award, and as a result of this joint partnership working, the garden has achieved Green Flag status in 2008, for the second year running.

Also in 2008, the group scooped a prestigious environmental prize in the Beautiful Scotland Neighbourhood Awards. The 'Friends' received an Outstanding Achievement award for creating a beautiful, clean and sustainable neighbourhood.

Also assisted by the participation of the Friends, a four star Visit Scotland Garden Award was obtained in 2008.

What have been your main challenges so far?

The completion of the Geddes Glasshouse project. In 2006 Dundee Contemporary Arts donated a large glasshouse to the Friends, as a result of which an application was made to Awards for All, and £9000 was received, to be used mainly to set up information and display boards within the glasshouse; run a series of children's activities during the summer holidays; and obtain computer, projector and camera equipment to aid the work of the Friends. Setting up the glasshouse was a joint project with Dundee City Council as was the Pergola erected in 2005. Both provide meeting and activity areas and complement the work going on in the garden.

Additional challenges

The renewal/renovation of the woodland, which resulted in us obtaining the Neighbourhood Award mentioned above.

Our latest project – revamping part of the scree bed – again with the assistance of Dundee City Council.

What advice would you give others?

Be adventurous – don't give up easily if things do not always go to plan – remember Bruce and the Spider!
